Together with the exception day profiles, time profiles define the times at which a user is authorized to access doors. For example, you can specify that a user only has access during office hours.

KentixONE offers predefined time profiles that can be edited or changed at any time. Additional profiles can be created if required.

The smallest time unit for processing access times is 15 minutes.