

User groups

User groups are used to manage access rights and authorizations in KentixONE for standard users. By using user groups, you can ensure that users can only access the information and functions in KentixONE that are necessary for their role or responsibilities.

These settings also apply to the KentixONE app.